FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FINDAWAY WORLD ACQUIRES SOUNDROOM PUBLISHERS

Deal further aligns pre-loaded format with content

CLEVELAND, OH, May 22, 2007 – Findaway World, the creators of the Playaway® digital audio format, today announced the acquisition of SoundRoom Publishers, an award-winning publishing company with a global catalog of titles. The acquisition includes SoundRoom Publishers' intellectual property: the imprints InAudio and Pocket University and all titles published under these imprints.

The acquisition provides Findaway with ownership of content for the continued growth of the Playaway product and format in the U.S. and abroad. SoundRoom's audio joins Playaway's catalog of licensed content from over thirty publishers, including Hachette, Harper Collins Random House and Simon & Schuster.

"SoundRoom Publishers is a great extension of our business," said Christopher Celeste, president and founder of Findaway World. "Because our product offerings are complementary, this acquisition is consistent with our strategy to provide simple and immediate access to content users want and need through Playaway."

All of SoundRoom's titles are published under its two imprints. InAudio titles fall predominantly under the genres of Classics and Primary-Source History and have received many awards, including AudioFile's Earphone Award and Publishers Weekly's Audio Best of the Year. Pocket University titles include the National Book Award Finalist, The 911 Commission Report.
